Village Visitors Staying Longer Survey Reveals

(Coupon on Page 5a)
Survey being conducted in the Palm Springs area relative to the vital need for increased airline service is resulting in very interesting information although the survey is not yet completed, according to Culver Parker, who is aiding H. C. Timberlake, Madison, Wisconsin, consultant.
Only facet of the survey which is lagging is the individual trip report of Village visitors during the month of May. Any person who made such a trip, by any means of transportation, is asked to complete the form appearing in this issue of The Desert Sun, and then send it to the Chamber of Commerce.

NINETY THOUSAND guest registrations at Village hotels have been checked to date, with more to be classified. This is to establish a geographical breakdown of where guests come from, and the average length of stay.
Every state and 10 foreign countries are represented in the 90,000 registrations checked to date. Eliminating the Los Angeles area (covering a radius of 100 miles), the next largest number of visitors is from the Pacific Coast (San Francisco to Vancouver), then from the Middle West (Chicago and Detroit), and the fourth largest from the New York area.

THE AVERAGE LENGTH of stay has increased during the past 10 years, Parker said.
A preliminary survey of out-of-state land and property ownership in the Palm Springs area also has revealed a substantial increase during the past 10 years.
The survey will continue until all phases of the report to be submitted before the CAB are completed.

Awards Presented Leading Members of Boys Club

First annual Boys Club Award Dinner was held at the American Legion Hall Monday evening, with more than 200 persons enjoying the Mexican dinner and witnessing the boys being honored.
The group was welcomed to the dinner by Dr. Julius Kaplan, chairman of the board of directors of Boys Club. History of the organization was reviewed by George Oliver, first chairman, who paid tribute to the late Frank Partridge and the Lions Club for aid given in starting the club. Mayor Florian Boyd told the group of the many benefits boys receive from Boys

NELLIE COFFMAN LIFE STORY STARTS MONDAY

With the sale of the famed Desert Inn marking the end of an epoch in the colorful history of Palm Springs, The Desert Sun will on Monday print the first installment of the first full biographical story of Mrs. Nellie N. Coffman, founder of the Inn, whose pioneering faith started Palm Springs on the highway to world prominence as a winter resort.

This first full biographical work comes just five years after the passing of Mrs. Coffman on June 10, 1950.

A MANUSCRIPT of some 10,000 words, it is by Leslie Harris and has been read and approved by the family.
Harris recently completed it after research and writing extending over the past year. During last Summer and Fall, Harris frequently interviewed Mrs. Coffman's sister, Mrs. Edna Coffman, at her home at Santa Monica, to obtain information on the family background and find how it came about that Nellie Coffman had such a gift for the hotel business, as well as for the broader role of civic leadership.

Harris says: "When I finished the story this Spring and turned it over to Earl Coffman to read, I spent several weeks of real anguish while awaiting his verdict. It was a great relief when he handed it back to me with one sentence changed. Apparently he and I feel the same about Mother Coffman, or there would have been a lot more revision to do."

OLD FAMILY PHOTOGRAPHS have been collected and copied for the Desert Sun serial.

PLANS SET IN MOTION FOR JULY 4 DISPLAY

Plans were started this week for the annual Fireworks Show to be staged July 4 at the Polo Grounds with Bill Bronstein of the Junior Chamber of Commerce as coordinator for the event.

Last year the Junior Chamber, Rotary club, Volunteer Firemen, Hotel and Apartment association, Shrine Club, Elks lodge, Knights of Columbus, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Forty and Eight, VFW Auxiliary, Soroptimists, Police Reserves and Police Officers association joined in financing the event, donating approximately $600.

More than 4,000 persons attended the event and hundreds more watched the program from neighboring homes.

Contributions for the annual display are already coming in. Bronstein said that any organization or individual desiring to contribute to this annual event may do so by calling him at 3355 or mailing their check to the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Junior Chamber members discussed plans for the event at their meeting last week and declared that it would surpass all previous like programs.

FIRST MISS UNIVERSE CONTEST NEXT TUESDAY

Tuesday evening some young woman will be chosen in the first elimination contest which will ultimately end in the selection of Miss Palm Springs to represent this city in the finals for the Miss California contest at Del Mar, June 28.

In addition to the winner, two other lovelies will receive handsome gifts from Irwin Schuman, owner of the Chi Chi, in whose Starlite Room Roy Randolph and seven judges will select first, second and third winners.

THE CONTESTANTS may be single or married. They may be professional models or amateurs and records of past Miss California contests and the finals for the Miss Universe Contest show that most of the winners were amateurs.
No one can foretell the measure of fame and fortune that may befall some young lady who appears in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, June 7. Non-winners have been selected by talent scouts for motion pictures, TV or radio. Other excellent paying jobs have also been offered and accepted by contestants.

There is no red-tape connected with entry into the contest for Miss Palm Springs. All a prospective contestant has to do is to appear in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi at 7:30 p.m. and make their presence known to Roy Randolph, who will act as Master of Ceremonies for the series of elimination contests.

Roy Randolph, aware of the Miss Universe contest rules, announced that seven judges will be picked at random from the audience to act as the judges.

He urged that those who plan to enter should bring a bathing suit along. A place to change clothes will be provided.
"Come on, girls," Randolph urged, "here's your opportunity to go places which may end in glamour for many of you."

Thousands in Village for Memorial Day Weekend with Every Place Full Up

The calendar was turned back to the middle of Winter season.

This was the experience of the Village last weekend when thousands of Memorial Day vacationers crowded into the town and brought "no vacancy" signs out of disuse.

All hotels were filled to capacity, and the sun-seeking coast and city residents were forced to seek accommodations in Banning and Indio. Cloudy skies and rain were reported throughout most of the state during the three-day holiday, which added to the attractiveness of desert living.

THE VISITORS quickly adopted the traditional Summer Village costume of shorts, during the sunny days and the balmy nights. Many of the visitors were college students, who were enjoying one last get-together before they were separated for the Summer vacation months.

Night clubs and restaurants reported a capcity business. The record Memorial Day crowd brought added traffic problems, which resulted in six accidents, none serious, and a few other disturbances.

AN ACCIDENT which had a realistic setting occurred at 2:57 p.m., Saturday, at the corner of Paseo El Mirador and Via Miralente, where Desert hospital is located.

Seven persons in the two vehicles were treated at the hospital for minor injuries. Taken there were: John Pena, 29, and Walter Baca, 47, both of Riverside, who suffered sprained backs; Aaron Johnson, 18, Inglewood; Allen Vincent Lundell, 18, Los Angeles; Pauline Sayre, 18, San Diego; Marilyn Bodine, 18, El Cajon; and Lois McCurdy, 15, Santee. The latter five, passengers in one vehicle, were only shaken up, although two of the girls were thrown out of the car onto the hospital lawn by the impact.

LUNDELL, DRIVER of the car containing the teen-agers, was traveling south on Via Miralente, and Baca was the driver of the other vehicle, traveling west on Paseo El Mirador. Damage to Lundell's car was estimated at $600.

Officers cited Lundell for violation of right-of-way. It was reported that he did not observe the boulevard stop, which is obscured by bushes and trees prior to the intersection. Adding to the excitement was the arrival of the fire department emergency pick-up, which was called when it was discovered that gasoline was escaping from one of the vehicles.

OTHER ACCIDENTS WERE: Hit-and-run property damage of $350 to the rear end of his car was reported Saturday by Clyde Samuel Hall, 19, 226 Lurline drive. The mishap occurred while the vehicle was parked during the night in the 1100 block of North Palm Canyon drive, Hall said.

Damage estimated at $200 to each vehicle was caused at 9 a.m., Sunday, in a two-car collision on Highway 111, at the first bridge this side of the Palm Springs depot. A car driven by Klemens Florczak, 55, Los Angeles, traveling east, was in the west-bound lane of traffic, and collided with a car traveling west, driven by Charles Walter Crookes, 52, Oceanside. Florczak, who said that he thought it was a one-

Hearing June 27 on Incorporation Plan at Cabazon

June 27 was fixed as the date for hearing on the proposal to incorporate Cabazon as the 13th county municipality by county supervisors when they met Tuesday.

At the hearing the population of the community will be checked by the board. Under the law it must have 500 population to become a city of the sixth class. Supporters of the incorporation plan claim 530 residents in the area.

Some opposition has developed and if enough persons ask exclusion, the plan may be denied, Supervisor Homer Varner in whose district the community lies, said.

L. D. Talent, president of the Cabazon Chamber of Commerce, is chief supporter of the move. He and Varner will confer before the hearing is held at 2 p. m. June 27 in the supervisors' chambers.

The incorporation hearing is being watched here because of reports that the United States Cement corporation has indicated it may seek to erect a cement plant, deny in several other county spots, in the new city if it is created.

Fourth Annual Desert Follies in Preparation

The Fourth Annual All New Palm Desert Follies has been announced by Clay Stearns, producer-director and the Palm Desert Little Theater, for two weekends, Friday and Saturday, June 17, 18 and 24, 25.

Stearns who has been assembling ideas and has also gathered an array of talent from Palm Springs to the Salton Sea said, "Both new faces and old favorites will appear in what I believe will prove to be the best of our Spring revues to date. Past editions have been so well received that the 'Follies' have practically become an institution with playgoers in the valley."

A report from Alaska indicates prices rising, and the housing situation hopeless. It should be ready for statehood now.—The Plugger.

Bill for County Sales Tax Given Board's Support

Supervisors Tuesday voted to support a bill before the state legislature which would authorize counties to levy a one-cent sales tax. They plan to ask State Senator Nelson Dilworth to support the measure which has passed the state assembly and is now before the senate finance committee.

Under terms of the bill, the state board of equalization would collect the tax with its three-cent state levy, for the counties.

THE MEASURE is being closely watched by Palm Springs city as it will affect the city sales tax in force for several years and which has already resulted in more than a million dollars collected here.

The bill provides that if any city in a county imposes a sales tax, the state would divide the revenue from the county tax along lines agreed upon by the two agencies.

SUPERVISOR Homer Varner urged that supervisors endorse the measure individually rather than as a board. He said that the measure is being opposed by the county's 12 cities and it would be wiser not to involve supervisors and city councils in an argument. He was voted down by the other supervisors.

It was estimated that if the bill succeeds the county will collect approximately one million dollars annually.

Federal Aid for Schools Anticipated

A special meeting of the board of trustees of Palm Springs Unified school district has been called for tonight by Chairman Ray Sorum to formulate policy necessary to coordinate anticipated Federal Aid for schoolhouse construction with the building program outlined in the bond issue campaign.

The session was called when it was learned by the trustees that they would be called to Los Angeles next week to discuss Federal aid with the Federal authorities. The amount of monies will amount to approximately $100,000, and will be designated for use by the board of education in the construction of any phase of the building program.

Federal aid monies are gained and allotted to the school district by average daily attendance of children who reside on tax-free land and attend public schools. Residents of Indian land in Palm Springs fall in this category.

At the meeting which was called for 5:30 p. m. at Francis Stevens school, the board of trustees will authorize the administration (Dr. Wallace B. Mueller, superintendent; and Paul Summers, business manager) to execute whatever actions are essential to continuing progress with projects involving Federal monies.

Dr. Mueller arrived here yesterday and began his duties by making a tour of all the school plants in this district.

Sheriff's deputies were called and took the youth into custody, but Sinatra and Van Heusen then declined to press charges.

UNEDITED

By BILL RASHALL

During the more than a decade yours truly has lived in this fair community, there has been published many stories about tired business and professional men who had come to Palm Springs to retire.

In substance, their chorus, after a month or two in Palm Springs, was: "No more work for me. I am tired out. Sold everything back home. I'm here to sop up the sun and just lay around and do some playing some of the time."

Six months later they're in business right here in Palm Springs. The doctor who had decided to quit, has opened an office. The businessman who was complaining about ulcers, had become the owner of a small hotel or some other type of business, about which he knew very little in his previous experience.

THAT IS GOOD! Certainly one must say that life in Palm Springs has re-vitalized these men—these tired, tired, men of industry and professions.

A case in point of the many I personally know is the story about O. A. (Torgie) Torgerson. After years of living in Alaska, organizing the bank of Kodiak, he sold out. He was tired. And he chose Cathedral City in which to retire. Within the year after his retirement back in 1947, he was "pushed" or was delighted, (I believe the latter adverb to be the fact), to plunge into the organization of The Desert Bank of Cathedral City. Subsequently, as everyone here knows, Torgie opened The Desert Bank of Palm Springs, and then one in Indio. Today, and for more than a year, these banks are part of the Citizens National Trust and Savings Bank with Herb Samson, old time Villager, in charge of the one in Palm Springs. He is, by the way, the vice president of Citizens.

BUT BACK TO TORGIE. Just received a letter from him. It informs me that Torgie is back with the bank of Kodiak as one of the directors, and I am told, acting as president of the bank. He once helped to organize and from which he retired. Ponce de Leon should have been the discoverer of Palm Springs instead of Florida, which he accidentally, or incidentally, found in his search for the fountain of youth.

Good Luck, Torgie, and your subscription to The Desert Sun has been renewed.

(Brownie) Brown, he was the manager of the Lone Palm. Later other hotels and then when Yolanda D. Markson bought the Deep Well Guest Ranch, he took over as the manager. He has been missing from the local scene for almost two years, but the other day he strolled into the Chi Chi and in the course of our greeting handed me one of his cards. It reads "James Brown, manager, Deep Well Guest Ranch." Everybody knows Markson. He is the power and the brains behind that Clinton chain of men's stores now rapidly expanding beyond the limits of our California. I'm glad and many others will be too, to read that you are back in our fair Village, Brownie.

bouquets thrown in my direction regarding the story about the Tribute Fund carried in Unedited. I was informed that many offers of help and contributions to the Tribute Fund, created to help Villagers in temporary financial distress, resulted. I know that the check that Irwin Schuman handed to me after his lovely wife, Virginia, read the column to him was not to be publicized. But somebody made his contribution publicly known, so I must add that it was I to whom he voluntarily handed the check, which I personally delivered to a director of the Tribute Fund. Villagers should thank their heavenly stars that we have in our midst such women as Barbara Coffman, Mrs. B. H. Poliak, Mrs. Culver Nichols and those men associated with these lovely women who give much of their time to The Welfare and Friendly Aid of which the Tribute Fund is part and parcel.

THIS IS A PERSONAL message to Mr. Herman H. Fink, realtor, known to many here as "Hy." He has lived in our midst for eight years. In addition he also stated that associated with him in acting for the buyers of The Desert Inn and unmentioned at the press conference when the sale was announced, was Jerry Nathanson, realtor and city councilman. I jumped. Mr. Nathanson about his failure to so inform The Desert Sun. He smiled and shrugged his shoulders and in that smile and the hoist of his shoulders there is a story that would give many who are in the know an incongruous twist to the whole story about the sale of The Desert Inn.

Winter weather descended on this desert Tuesday evening May 31. The high in the shade of course was around 85 degrees, but the low—hold on to your breath, was a cool 51.8 degrees at 6 a.m. June 1. This information was correctly given to me by Hal Waltz, who took the reading from the new centigrade thermometer now being used by the Palm Springs Community Television corporation. Phil Stone at KCMJ reported a 60 low and Bill Leonasio, our fire chief, said the chart at Fire Station 2, showed a reading of 54 at 4:45 p.m. Tuesday. The weather here has simply been beautiful, lovely, just as days in June should be.

Ravese Ready to Go After Salton Sea Record Sunday

Johnny Ravese is all set to go after the Salton Sea crossing record next Sunday morning.

The 17-year-old Palm Springs swimming star has been training all week, and is reported in excellent condition. He is scheduled to leave the Salton Sea Yacht Club on Highway 111 about 7 a.m., and hopes to finish the 10.5 mile swim within the record time of four hours 32 minutes set by Tom Parks, Canadian swimmer who holds several world's championship long distance marks.

In Johnny's first crossing two weeks ago he came within three minutes of tying Parks' record, although not trying for speed. And the weather was not altogether favorable, which added to his swimming distance.

Accompanying the youth on his swim Sunday will be his father, John Ravese; his high school swim coach, Wayland Reynolds, and several of his high school friends who have helped him in his training. Louis Carter, noted swimming star of past years and now a nationally known instructor, will be one of the timers during the swim.

The crossing will be completed at Helen Burns' Salton Sea resort, located on Highway 99.

Mrs. Bunker Delays Trip Because of Bad Weather

Mrs. Zaddie Bunker's take-off in her Ecoupe for Washington, D. C., scheduled for Wednesday, was delayed by high winds throughout the inland desert areas. Palm Springs' flying grandmother was impatient to be off to this starting point on June 9 of the Sixth Annual All Woman International Air Race in which she is entered.

Point of finish is Havana, Cuba, and Mrs. Bunker has all the confidence in the world that her bright red two place 85 horsepower "rockin' chair," as she calls it, will make a good showing. While in the Cuban city the entrants who finish will be guests of the Cuban government.

WHEN ASKED approximately how many women had entered this race which draws from memberships in Australia, Turkey, Puerto Rico, South Africa, Brazil, Canada and Japan, Mrs. Bunker said she was number thirty-four and there were four days left after her entry was received, so it was anyone's guess.

Her itinerary to the Nation's capital will cover Phoenix, Tucson, Lordsburg, El Paso, Dallas, Texarkana, Knoxville. While in Washington she will stay at the Hotel Willard and laughingly stated there would be a champagne banquet at which she would have to wear a hat and white gloves. She continued that she had gotten herself an outfit, complete with long white gloves, that would be a credit to her beloved Palm Springs.

LAST YEAR, 67-year old Mrs. Bunker made a solo trip across the country to a convention of the Ninety-Niners, woman's flying organization, "just for fun" and brought a wealth of national publicity to Palm Springs by the uniqueness of her undertaking, as well as her natural charm and enthusiasm.

On this year's jaunt she will carry with her a print of the Palm Springs promotional film, a parcel of literature on her home town and the same desire to tell the world about this desertland.

Preparations Under Way for Annual Soap Box Derby

Stack Chevrolet of Palm Springs and the desert's CBS network affiliate, KCMJ, will jointly sponsor the fourth annual desert participation in the All-American Soap Box Derby.

That was the announcement made today by Duane Staehler, Stack Chevrolet owner, and David H. Margolis, president of the Palm Springs Broadcasting corporation.

San Bernardino will be the scene July 16 of the regional trial races, from which winners will continue on to National Soap Box Derby at Akron, Ohio, August 14.

AN INNOVATION this year will be the running of preliminary trials in Palm Springs July 2.

All races will be run on Saturdays, and all contestants will have an equal chance at $15,000 in college scholarship prizes, trophies and other valuable merchandise prizes.

The contest is open to all boys who will be 11 or older . . . or 15 or younger . . . on August 14. Each must build his own "Soap Box Derby" and it must conform to regulations. Copies of the regulations and details of the prizes may be obtained now from Stack Chevrolet, on Sunny Dunes road near South Palm Canyon drive.

ARRANGEMENTS for the races are being handled by Joe Henderson of Stack Chevrolet's sales promotion staff, and KCMJ sports director Art Shepherd. Henderson said today all boys interested in the Soap Box Derby should contact him

EDITOR'S CORNER

By Oliver B. Jaynes

A TRIP TO REMEMBER — The longest and most delightful truck-free trip in America is along the Skyline Drive overlooking beautiful Shenandoah Valley and the Blue Ridge Parkway from northern Virginia to Asheville, N.C. It is a 400-mile-long park of spectacular scenic beauty. We reached this section of the country by taking the famous Pennsylvania Turnpike out of Ohio, leaving it at Brentwood, Penn. From there it is only a short drive to Winchester, the oldest city in Virginia west of the Blue Ridge. It was founded in 1744. It is only a short distance from here to Front Royal where the Skyline Drive begins. The drive winds along the top of the heavily wooded mountains with frequent drive off points for views of the Shenandoah Valley. The speed limit is 35 miles per hour along the winding driveway but the scenery is so beautiful that one doesn't really care to go through any faster.

There are several very beautiful caverns at points along the Skyline Drive. Two of the most notable are the Shenandoah Caverns and the Skyline Caverns. Most of these are reached by short trips off of the Skyline.

The Skyline Drive through Virginia extends for a little more than 100 miles. At that point we go directly into the Blue Ridge Parkway which continues for 300 miles more to Asheville, N. C. and is now being extended all the way into the Great Smoky Mountains. The curves are not as sharp on the Parkway and much of the drive usually can be negotiated at between 45 and 50 miles an hour. The flowers along this section, at least at this time of the year, are extremely abundant, particularly the colorful wild azaleas and rhododendrons. In some sections the masses of blossoms are breathtaking. This is a trip that is one that we will long remember.

There are many interesting cities and towns along this route which can be reached with short side trips. All of them are steeped in historical backgrounds. At Charlottesville is Monticello the home of Thomas Jefferson. Eighteen miles away is Ash Lawn the home of James Monroe. At nearby Staunton is the well preserved stately mansion that was the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson. Staunton was once the seat of government for Augusta county that embraced nearly all of the area of West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, as well as Michigan, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania.

This is a trip that puts pleasure back in motoring and one that you should not miss if you are touring the eastern section of the country. Just imagine driving over 400 miles without even seeing a truck! It is particularly beautiful at this time of year because of the Spring flowers and new foliage. It must also be spectacular in the Fall when the trees turn to scarlet and gold. We will want to try it sometime in September or October.

We have paused as this is being written in Hendersonville, N.C., near Asheville, for a visit with former Palm Springs residents Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Zain. They have taken a house for the Summer in this beautiful wooded community in the North Carolina mountains. Hendersonville is very popular with residents of southern Florida who come up here to escape the Summer heat. It has a good year-around climate, however, and many new residents are making their permanent homes here. Its charms have even attracted at least one resident of California. I noticed a classified ad in the local paper whereby a resident of Beaumont offered to trade his property for a home in Hendersonville.

Sad All Over Dept.

(From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat)

There's a bad bird word from Palm Springs, Calif. This is the season, says the newspaper The Desert Sun, of grievous feathered kamikaze. And each year it's worse.

It seems that as the swank resort's population gets plusher, living gets opener, houses get glassier and birds get hoodwinked. In from treeless desert hop or bleary day of Los Angeles smog, they are likely to figure any old perch in a storm, and nose-dive for rest haven they can see, through glass walls they can't. Patios pile high with headstrong — but insufficiently — victims.

The saddened townfolk have hatched lofty ideas, i. e., let the glass-cased clique paste paper bars across windows to warn that the way of bird-life, like people-life, is oft not as clear as it seems.

But we submit that remedy is a worse booby-trap. Paste bars horizontally and they beguile with even more alluring perches that aren't there. Put them safely vertical and it slanders all the law-abiding characters within.

There being no flight from this reality, the choice is simply whether to conserve feathered friends or ruffle well-heeled tenants. Ike's California stomping ground has a real problem.

TRY AND STOP ME

By Bennett Cerf

ONE OF THE STORIES that, judging by the number of times it's submitted, must be among the most popular extant concerns the old man explaining the secret of seventy years of serene, fight-free married life.

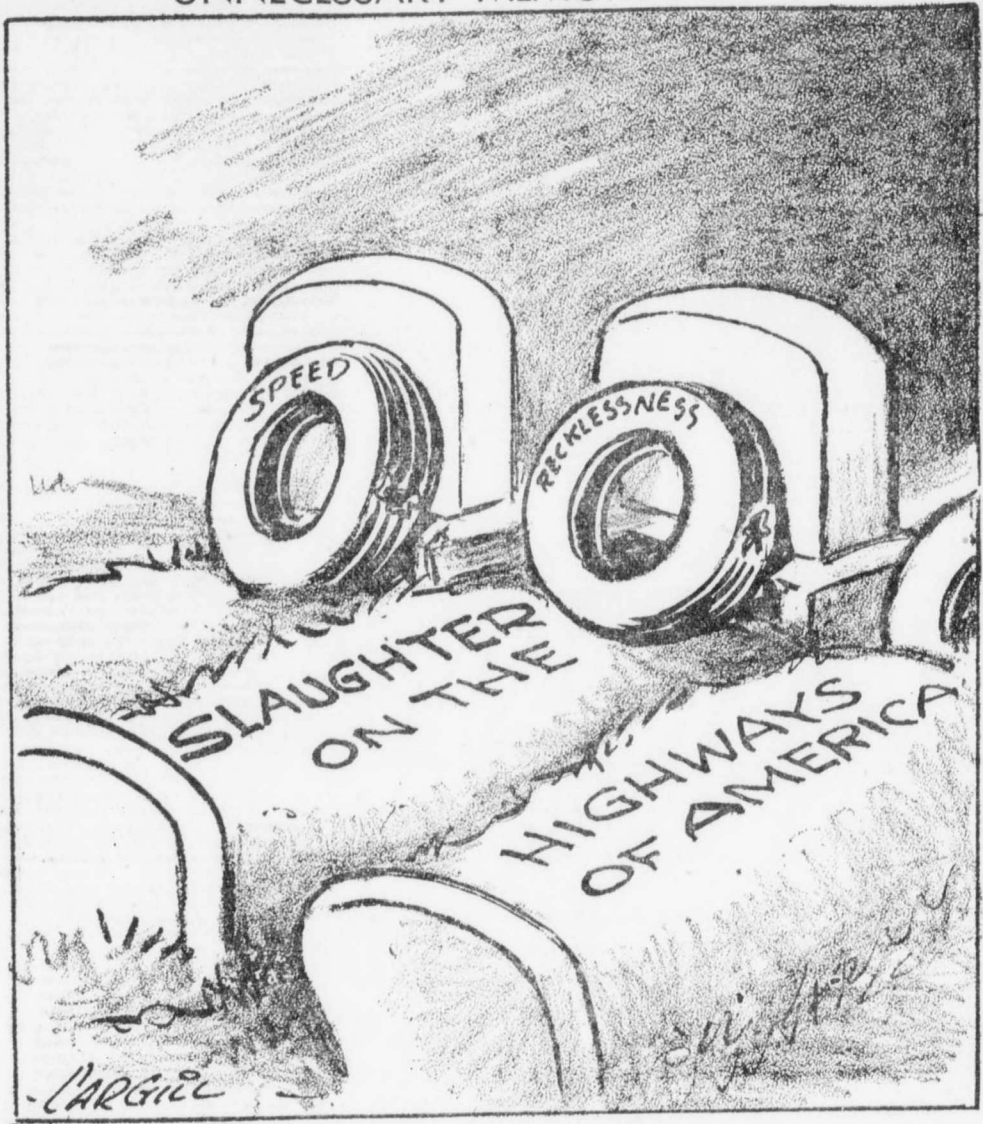

"Driving home from our honeymoon," is the ancient's story, "my mare stumbled. That's once!" I noted. Then it stumbled again. I said grimly, "That's twice!" When she stumbled: "That's once!" I pulled out my gun and shot her dead.

"My new wife got mighty riled over that and bawled me out plenty. I just sat there quiet till she ran down. Then I said 'That's once!'"

"Son, I ain't had a bit trouble with her since."

The difference between tamales in the U.S.A. and in Mexico, explains Pepe Montiguez, is that in the States they're merely hot; in Mexico, they're still sizzling ten minutes after you've eaten them. There's one place in Mexico City, swears Pepe, where, if three people are eating hot tamales at the same time, the automatic sprinkling system goes on.

Athlete's Heart

When a young man at college for two Summers one of my tasks was to coach a track team. The individuals who came for training had among them five who held world records. Superb athletes were all of the men. Being a medical student my interest was naturally aroused in the punishment taken by the athletes in the events which were unduly long. Among these the quarter mile, the five mile and the marathon. There seemed to be no universal finding evidenced in any of the men to see a rule or course which would indicate danger signals for possibilities in their health for the future. Recently, a study has been made of a large group of athletes. The physiologists have always directed attention to the effect of exercise upon bodily function especially the prolonged exercise intervals or the long term efforts of the trained athlete. The pulse rates of the trained athletes are expected to be slow and while many of them show a low pulse rate of sixty or less at rest quite a number have pulse rates over eighty. After long sustained effort some of the pulse rates rise inordinately high.

There is a fairly consistent downward trend in blood pressure readings during and after strenuous exercise. Some athletes finish grueling contests with diastolic pressures as low as twenty to thirty millimeters of mercury, yet the exception include many athletes whose pressures remain stable or actually rise with prolonged intense effort. Electrocardiograms particularly of marathon runners whose race is twenty six and a half miles in length have revealed enlargements of the heart to the right, the result of great oxygen demand. The popular assumption has been that the athlete's heart is enlarged in the course of exercise and then later becomes flabby and sometimes causes a premature death.

It is understood among medical men who work with athletes that the healthy heart can withstand the load placed upon it by the most strenuous of sports. The alarming appearance of an athlete during or after the close of a grueling competition—his face anguished and gray—is an indication not of heart failure but of a temporary disturbance of the sympathetic nervous system or perhaps a depletion of adrenal gland secretion or a low blood sugar. This latter, low blood sugar, is usually the cause of fainting at or close to the end of the race. The effect of active and prolonged participation in sports upon longevity has been the subject of conflicting reports. In a study made at Cambridge University 772 sportsmen were compared with a control group of 710 men who had attended the same university at the same time. The latter group of 710, consisted of 374 intellectuals or honor men and 336 other men chosen at random. The sports men lived approximately the same length as did those who did not participate in athletics. It would seem therefore that under proper training, no untoward effect should be laid at the door of those who participate in athletics.

Dr. Goldberg is not practicing medicine at this time and is unable to answer correspondence.

Congressional Report

By Representative John Phillips

The Senate sustained the veto of the postal pay raise bill by a larger margin than was expected. It did not come back to the House. The committee has again voted out the 7.6% increase bill and, as I suggested last week, has back-dated it to March 1st. I see some journals, trying to save face probably, are speaking of it as an 8% raise, or 8.2, or something like that. That's just a question of how you figure a complicated pay scale increase. This is the same bill the House attempted to pass earlier, with two minor adjustments, to bring a couple categories into balance in the new classification. I think it is a good bill. The President will sign it.

The thing I do like about the bill, is the evidence that the President can't be pushed around by self-interested lobbyists, or pressure groups. He considered all angles, he listened to all arguments, and he did exactly what was obviously best for the postal employees, and what he said he would do. As my friend Norris Cotton formerly on the subcommittee with me, and now the Junior Senator from New Hampshire says, "I doubt if this man will be pushed around in a Four Power Parley."

HERE'S AN ITEM which interests me: I've been asked many times about writing letters to Congressmen, and whether we read them and pay any attention to them. Of course we do, but we soon learn to make distinctions between them. All letters and cards are welcome but the ones that count are those showing personal interest and knowledge of the subject.

It has never been clear to me why constituents think a load of letters, all written on the same typewriter and on stationery from the same box; taken to some meeting and signed by the people there, have any more influence than one intelligent letter, from the same person, let us say, who wrote the multiple letters. THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Never saw the slothful days Move on so very slow. Seems a month 'til Friday When, whoops, away I go!

Well, it may not qualify as verse—but it expresses my sentiments. For that time has come again when I impoverish myself and make life merrier for the stockholders of the Friendly Southern Pacific. Friday afternoon I take off for the Midwest, Chicago, Hinsdale and way stations, to see my grandsons. And for the past three weeks Mrs. G has been putting me through an intensive training course with the main theme: "Watch your language. You will not be trying to get out a newspaper for the next 15 days."

PLANNING THE PACKING is a task beyond me and I leave that to her. Anyway, she always throws out the little things I think I need but never miss when I get there. And puts in the articles that I do need and which I am grateful to have when that need arises. I have a chore of my own to believe it was Hercules who cleaned out the Aegean stables, thereby making headlines in the old mythologies. I'd like to have him around now. I am cleaning off my desk preparatory to departure. I'd like to lay 8 to 5 that if he were here now and tried the job, he'd not make it.

BUT THE JOB was interesting at that. Found many oddities in the accumulation. And lost a lot of time pondering the question, "Now, why in heck did I think I had to save that?" Nothing of value, mind you, because those items were taken care of in the normal course of events. But such things as worthless 25-cent tickets, last year's receipts from my FSP trip, Pullman stubs, a marked-up Del Mar program, a bar check from the Greater Los Angeles Press club with some notations on the back of it which I couldn't make out. That sort of stuff. Greeting cards, calling cards, letters of appreciation, more letters of defamation. All very interesting but time-consuming with so much to do before being hoisted or derlicked on to the Golden State.

SPEAKING of the grandsons, one of my objectives this trip is to entice their parents to bring them west this Fall. That will give me an excuse to visit Disneyland and hear a Anaheim which opens July 18. I might appear a bit foolish to be seen enjoying the foibles meant for small children but if accompanied by them, people will just think, look at that nice old grandfather. He seems to be enjoying it as much as the boys. Seems to be? Huh! But I've had a lot of literature in Disneyland so far and I am anxious to see it.

SHADOW MOUNTAIN CLUB put on a Luau that was a luau Saturday night. It is not my plan to comment on it fully here. Hildy Crawford is doing her customary great job on that in her society section. But I do wish to make one or two remarks. First, I thought the hula was a dance in which the movement of the hands plays the main role. But I guess maybe I wasn't looking in the right places. I never did like to attend luaus too much because it was so much trouble setting up after sitting on the grass or floor for long periods of time consuming strange foodstuffs. But I liked the SMC version. Nice comfortable chairs before a regulation table, great food, and a wonderful show. O.K. Hildy, I'll quit trespassing now.

GRAHAM ALEXANDER was there, tape-recording comments of everyone and anyone he could stop as they went by his booth. I halted to acquire a light having loaned my matches to a man who absent-mindedly chucked them in his pocket. I slithered in a few words myself. Graham's leg is still in a cast and people were autographing it. That's what I like in a real cast of characters.

Some people are accurate optimists. Last Saturday afternoon with no vacancy signs blossoming all over town, four carloads of visitors stopped by the Indian avenue side of The Sun and asked me: "Can you tell us where we can get a room?" I couldn't.

LAST WEEK I printed an article about a new excuse given a motorist by a driver he had stopped. The fellow said it was such a dangerous road he was hurrying to get off of it. That prompted a reader to send in another incident involving a motorist and a motorist. This motorist was a woman driver and decided she'd try tears on the policeman. He looked like a nice sympathetic fellow my correspondent told me. So the woman decided to shed some repentant tears and as the officer came up, lost loose with a preliminary smile or two. The fast-thinking policeman was equal to it. "Y'know," he mused, "You remind me of my wife. She looks awful when she cries." The girl signed the ticket and drove away, dry-eyed.

Open wide the lounge and dining car doors. Here I come.

The Voice of Broadway

By Dorothy Kilgallen

I am a really good cook. I can darn socks (and have!). And I cherish the day some months ago when a gentleman — a very perceptive one, I like to think — told me I have a "gingham personality with the velvet reputation." (He's an advertising man and so he speaks that way quite naturally.)

So that's my problem? Well, with the exception of a few "perceptive ones," most people have the idea that my idea of roughing it is to wear mink instead of sable, and that my appreciation of the kitchen is based on the knowledge that the icebox is a great place to store one's orchids. Why should people get such lopsided notions about me? My accent—it's always been my accent. For some reason when a woman arrives in America equipped with reasonable good looks and a middle-European accent, everybody proceeds to harbor unreasonable ideas about her. They begin to treat her as if she didn't only wear orchids but ate them, too. At first it's rather amusing but then it begins to trip you up. And let me give you an example.

Recently I posed for some pictures in my apartment. Now I have a maid, that's true, but I also have a darling little daughter who happens to enjoy her mother's cooking and so I posed in my kitchen among the pots and pans — not props, mind you, but utensils I know how to use. It was a charming and very natural picture I thought, but oh my, the reactions it received!

Friends and acquaintances called me on the phone so amused by this picture. The ladies positively tittered as they suggested we swap recipes, while the gentlemen slyly suggested that I invite them to my apartment for a good home-cooked dinner, Lisa.

And then, finally, I ran into the editor who'd posed that picture and he leveled an amusingly "evil" eye at me and demanded:

"Lisa, darling, from whom did you rent those beautiful pots and pans I posed you with?" It develops that her staff had been, as she put it, "convulsed" by my attempts to appear domestic and she'd been ribbed unmercifully.

Well, last week she came to dinner at my apartment — walked right into the kitchen at my suggestion and saw me prepare what turned out to be a very delicious dinner. So my reputation as a homemaker has been redeemed for the time being.

I recall my very first year here in New York City. Everything I said appeared to be hilarious. I must have fancied myself a great wit except for the fact that I was completely befuddled by it all. Here I was in America and only a year before I had been an interpreter at the famous Nuremberg trials, and I was so anxious to discuss them with American gentlemen... exchange ideas... describe for them on-the-spot scenes as only an observer could.

I have just about given up telling people where I was born. TRANSYLVANIA — what a joke it seems! "Whoo, Lisa, that's where Count Dracula came from," somebody is bound to remark. I speak six languages fluently, and on these occasions I have an almost uncontrollable urge to say un ladylike things in each of them.

—I have my accent and I shall never lose it, and with it I have my problem. I'll solve it somehow.

SCHILL

he owned and operated the Fort Pierce hotel, in Fort Pierce, Florida, during the Winter and the Franconia hotel, in the White Mountains at Woodstock, N. H. in the Summer. He also managed the Park Plaza in St. Louis, an 1100 room hotel of Waldorf type construction and operation. The many from Chicago, who Winter in Palm Springs, will remember him from his days as manager of Shawnee Country club in Wilmette, Ill. His experience also includes managerial positions with the New Yorker hotel in New York, Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago, and Statler in Detroit.

ERNEST R. BREECH, vice president of Thunderbird and Chairman of the Board of Ford Motor company contacted Schill in Detroit regarding the position at Thunderbird. In mid-May Schill flew to Palm Springs to be interviewed by Fred Karlen, president, Frank G. Belcher, treasurer and also president of the Thunderbird Property Owners association, and various officers of the new Thunderbird board. He was employed immediately and returned to Palm Springs with Mrs. Schill and their seven-year-old son, Steve. They have a daughter, Marcella 17, who remained in Birmingham to graduate from Cody high school; after which she will join her family here for the Summer and plans to enter a west coast college in the Fall.

Schill is enthusiastic in his praise of Thunderbird, and said, "This is one of the most beautiful courses in the country. With certain needed additions and changes to the clubhouse the operation promises to be tops in the nation!"

ALTHOUGH SCHILL has spent most of his life east of Chicago and in Florida, he said, "It's been our desire to some day live in California. My wife and I plan to buy a home here on the desert and spend the rest of our lives in this grand California weather.

"The Thunderbird Country club deserves to be termed one of the great miracles of our time. Built only a few years ago on an arid sandy waste, now it is watered daily with more than 80 thousand gallons of water and is a true oasis comprising acres of green carpeting shaded by palms and many beautiful blossoming bushes. The course is lined with some of the most spectacular showplace estates in America, built around smartly shaped swimming pools. One of the ultra smart homes even has a swimming pool extending all the way into the living room!"

MOST OF THE TOP-NAME golfers of the nation have played at Thunderbird. Course records have been set and broken, and all in a space of less than five years since the "sand-hill" was landscaped and watered.

Now one of the youngest courses in America will have another event of outstanding note.

The Ryder Cup Matches, one of the most noted international golfing events in the world, will be played at Thunderbird October 29 to November 9 this Fall.

Woman Injured in Odd Accident

A freak accident Tuesday afternoon resulted in serious injury to 72-year-old Rose Brisson of Long Beach, who with her husband had been staying at 343 North Palm Canyon drive.

Mrs. Brisson suffered a broken clavicle and a fractured pelvis when she was pinned between the car door and a parking meter, in front of their hotel.

Walking on crutches as a result of a recent operation, she was entering the car when one of the crutches slipped to the floor of the vehicle. Her husband, who had the motor started, leaned over to pick it up, and in so doing his foot slipped off the brake and onto the accelerator, causing the car to jerk backwards, and pinning her between the door and the parking meter.

Mrs. Brisson was rushed to Desert Hospital by Wiefels and Son ambulance.

On arrival there of her and Mr. Brisson, it was discovered that he had suffered shock as a result of the incident, and he remained in the hospital overnight.

the story is as follows:

Dear Mr. Harris:

You have handled the Mother Coffman story to our satisfaction, and in fact it exceeds our expectations. I have read and reread the manuscripts very carefully, and I am very much pleased with the sympathetic and accurate treatment.

In fact, I am astonished that you could have evoked her personality in such a lifelike way without having known her personally. I am particularly pleased that you have avoided any effort to dramatize her story by artificial means—but give a true characterization of the one who lives in our memory.

To her, Palm Springs was both a challenge and an opportunity. I am glad that you have not dwelt on her business success alone, but have shown also how she met the larger challenge of civic responsibility in a growing community and was always ready to help where she could. Because of this, I am pleased that you have taken this opportunity to pay her lasting tribute.

Sincerely yours,
O. EARL COFFMAN

HARRIS ADDED that he expects to make further literary use of the story of Mother Coffman and perhaps go more fully into the larger Palm Springs story in which she was a focal figure of her time.

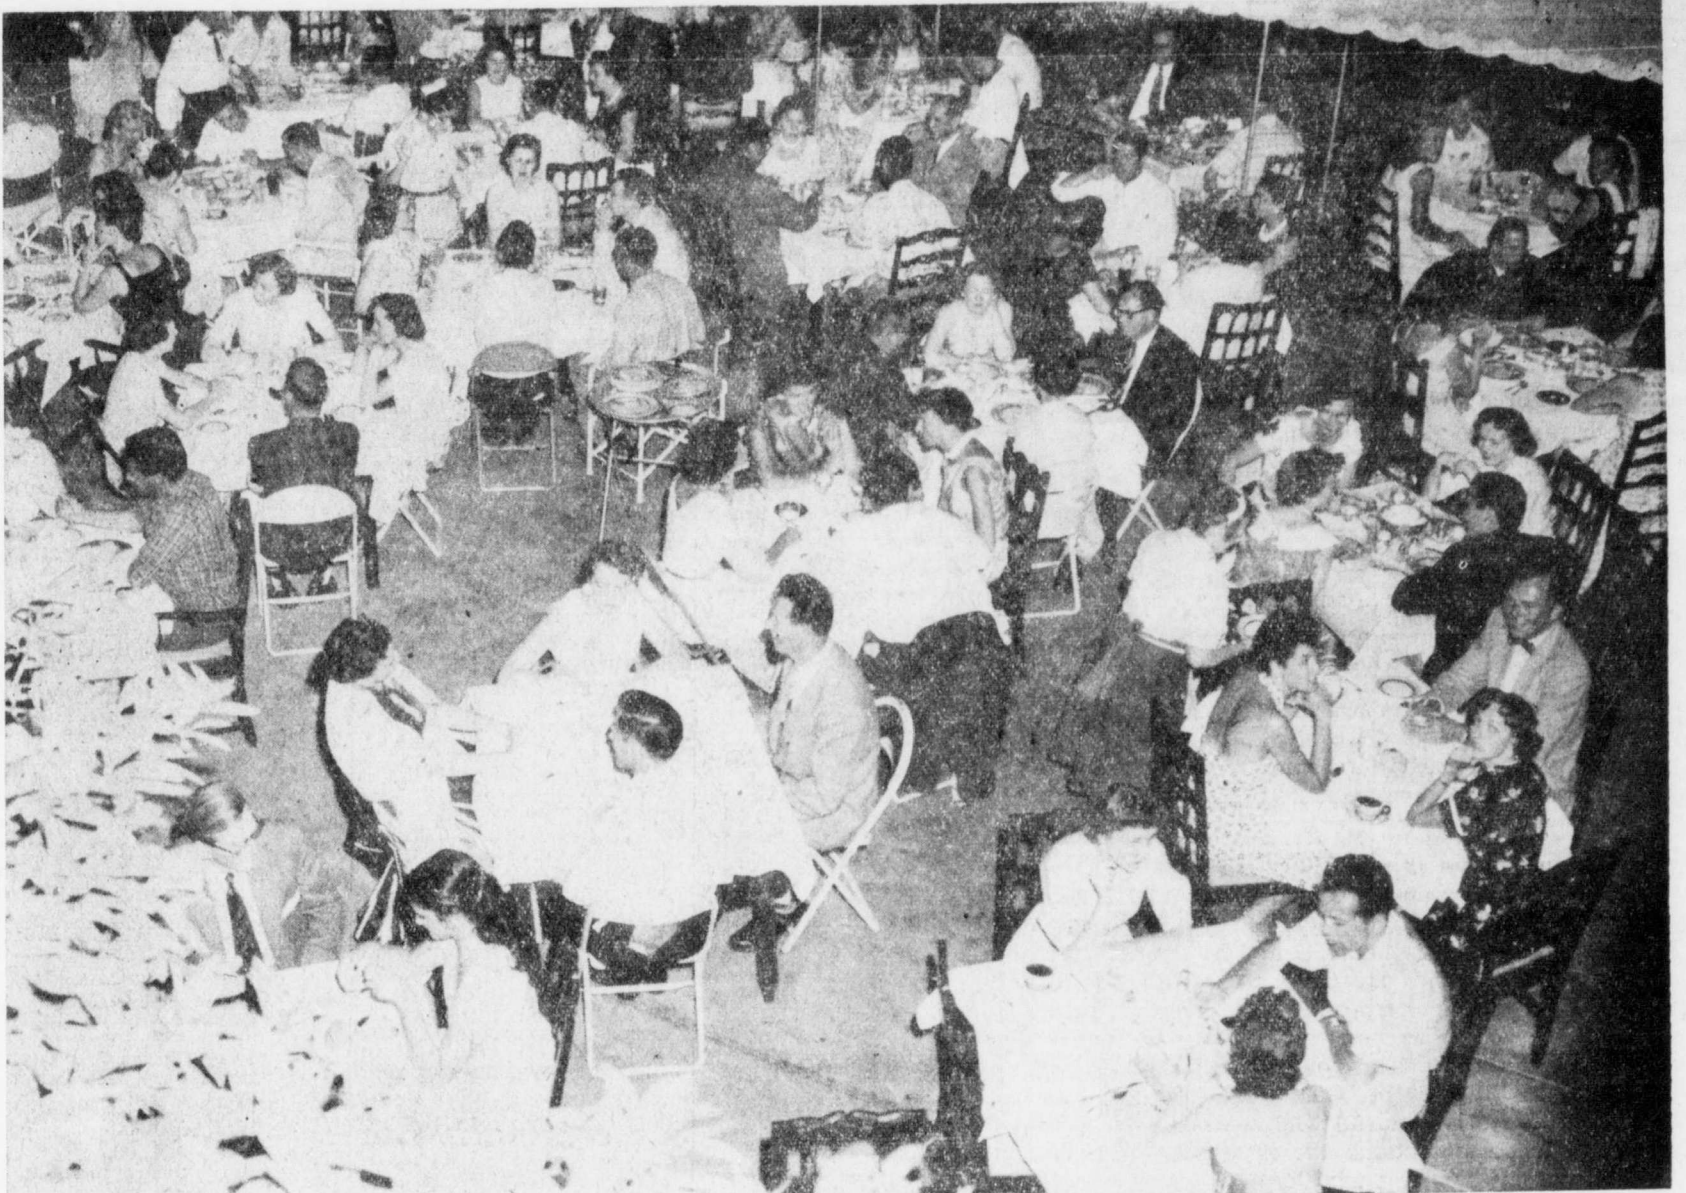

"Every one knows of Palm Springs," he said, "but few people across the country are familiar with its early history and the heroic efforts and vision it took to transform the desert into a place to live. Mother Coffman's life and work have all the elements of a story which should be of national interest; everyone loves a pioneer, a person, especially a woman, who goes out to a strange world and against all odds makes history. Her kindness, her business ability, and her determination, make her a memorable figure."

"In a manuscript of 10,000 words, written primarily for newspaper serialization, one has to choose and condense rather than to invent. I hope in the future to cover the subject more thoroughly; at least for the present I have a magazine article in mind."

(First installment of the Mother Coffman story will appear in The Desert Sun Monday, June 6.)

PURSE IS LOST

Loss of a kidney-shaped purse containing between $15 and $20 in cash and miscellaneous articles, was reported to police Wednesday by Casimira Chamberlain, 441 North Palm Canyon drive.

CATHOLIC ALUMNI composed of young college graduates from many such institutions in California and elsewhere gathered 192 strong for a three-day holiday at La Paz Hotel and Guest Ranch last week. Above the group is pictured dining in the inner patio of that hotel.

ACTION, such as above, will be seen again tomorrow when Palm Springs Little League launches its third annual season at the Polo Grounds.

Village Golfers to Match Strokes with Champions

National Golf Day will be observed in Palm Springs this weekend with all three local clubs participating.

Play started at Thunderbird Country club Tuesday with players at Tamarisk Country club and O'Donnell club playing Saturday.

On that day golfers all over the United States will match their cards with that of Ed Furgol, national open champion, for the men, and Patty Berg, substituting for Babe Zaharias, U. S. Woman's champion who will be unable to play because of illness.

AT TAMARISK participants in the annual Desert Rat tournament, scheduled this weekend, may use their cards for both events.

Furgol and Miss Berg will play at the Olympic club in San Francisco.

Entry fee is $1 and proceeds go to the American Red Cross this year's major beneficiary.

Life Magazine and the Professional Golfers association co-sponsor National Golf Day with the cooperation of the U.S.G.A.

THIRTY PERSONS had played the course at Thunderbird Country Club through Tuesday, and quite a few of these have a chance to beat the scores of Furgol and Patty Berg.

The course will remain open through Saturday, for members wishing to play, and someone will remain at the clubhouse to record scores.

SOME GOLFERS entered there twice, and only the best score is recorded below:

J. Ross Clark, 71-6-65; Ken Evans 71-5-66; S. P. Manasse 72-6-66; Milt Hicks 70-3-67; Dr. L. Earle 86-19-67; Jim Welsh 85-18-67; George Barrett 84-16-68; Freeman Gossden 76-8-68; Glen Thomas 76-7-69; George Holstein 86-17-69; Phil Harris 76-7-69; Keith Nussbaum 80-10-70; Bart Prom 79-9-70; C. E. Needham 78-7-71; Arthur Bailey 92-21-71; Dr. William McBride 75-3-72; J. R. Townsend 93-20-73; Eddie Susalla 73.

O'Donnell Club Adds to Facilities

Construction of a new storage building is now under way at O'Donnell Golf club which will increase facilities now offered to members. Manager Larry Sitter announced.

The new building will be used to house the electric carts at the course, and also for other storage.

Plans also call for remodeling of the present club house, after the course is closed for the summer months, starting July 5.

When all construction and the uniforms of last summer have been passed down to the Minor League.

Practice sessions have been under way for several weeks, and the rosters of all teams have been completed for the present time.

The Palm Springs Little League is co-sponsored by the Little League Commission and the city recreation department. Officers of the Little League Commission are: Scott Thompson, commissioner; Al Weingarten, president; Landrus, vice-president; A. R. Simon, secretary; Lucille Mitchell, recording secretary; Harold West, treasurer; and Julius Edelstein, official scorekeeper.

The local program is part of a nation-wide organization, which has 500,000 boys enrolled in Little League play this summer.

Moore Fourth in CIF State Meet High Jump Event

Palm Springs' David Moore is the fourth best high school jumper in the State of California.

He emerged in this position in the CIF state championships at the Los Angeles coliseum Saturday, clearing the bar at six feet four inches.

Winning the title with a new record of six feet 9 3/8 inches was Charlie Dumas of Centennial high school of Colorado. Tied for second were Dick Dailey of Hayward and Walter Torrance of Grand high in Sacramento.

Moore was the only Riverside county track man to place in the meet.

His fourth place was good for two points and gave the Palm Springs track team a tie for twenty-fifth place in the state.

Marines Win Opener from Palm House

Paced by the three-hit pitching of Johnny Green, the Twenty-nine Palms Marines made their first start of the Desert Softball League a winning one.

The Marines were held to only five hits themselves, but came through with four runs for a 4 to 2 win over the Palm House.

Three consecutive hits in the fourth inning, climaxed by a home run by Courtney, insured the win for the Marines.

Green struck out 16 batters, and Paul Nielson of the Palm House fanned nine.

This was the opening contest in the Desert Softball League.

Water Service Battle Renewed in County Court

Legal battle over water usage and service in the Tamarisk Country club-Wonder Palms area was back in court again.

In superior court at Riverside, Judge John G. Gabbert has issued a temporary injunction order to Anthony Burke and W. B. Milner restraining Montague Herbert from an attempt to reduce the pressure of water supplied there.

Burke and Milner are supplied from a well on adjacent property owned by Herbert.

A few weeks ago they obtained a similar order from Riverside attorney, John Babbage, sitting as superior judge pro tem. This order was later dismissed by Judge Russell C. Waite on a technicality and attorneys for Burke and Milner filed an amended complaint which was granted.

Judge Gabbert's decision followed a personal inspection of the properties.

A long court battle is expected in the suit.

way road, was cited for failure to drive in the right lane of traffic.

MINOR DAMAGE was caused to cars driven by Stanley Freilich, 27, West Los Angeles, and Joe W. Blankenship, 33, 114 North Calle Encina, in a mishap at 1:41 a.m. Sunday in the 1000 block of North Palm Canyon drive. Both vehicles were traveling south, and Freilich's car was struck in the rear by Blankenship's, when the former slowed down for traffic ahead of him. Blankenship was cited for not having a driver's license in his possession.

T. L. Boling reported Monday noon that hit-and-run property damage amounting to $60 had been caused to his car when another vehicle backed into it. The accident seen was on Bernardo road, near the O'Donnell Golf Club entrance. The burglaries involved the taking of $57 in cash, a check for $260 and a purse from the hotel room of Mrs. Shirley Pops, Beverly Hills, and a table model radio and $18 in cash from the hotel room of Dorothy Millar of Beverly Hills, both occurring at different places and by different suspects early Sunday morning.

THE SUSPECT in the burglary of the Desert Sun—2b PALM SPRINGS, CALIFORNIA Thursday, June 2, 1955

lary of Mrs. Pops' room had entered two other rooms in the same hotel prior to going into hers, and had excused himself both times with the remark that he was looking for someone. He was seen by Mrs. Pops as he left her room, and the police were alerted. Roadblocks were set by Banning police, but were not successful.

A theft of $30 in cash and a blue denim outfit from his car, while it was parked in the Tahquitz Canyon area was reported Sunday by Kenneth Jack Martin of Los Angeles. Entry was made by forcing open a wind wing.

THE USUAL THEFT of shub caps was reported Saturday evening by Gilbert Lindenstein, 666 Calle Roca. Four were taken, valued at $100. A hiking mishap in Tahquitz Canyon, first believed to have resulted in a broken ankle, turned out to be only a sprain, when the victim, Edward Earl Eveland, 25, was treated at Desert hospital.

MORRISON ON GOLF

How to Make Your Golf Easier

Before starting a crucial final round where he had an excellent chance of winning the tournament, Fred Haas, Jr., found that he could relax by simply reading the comic section of his newspaper.

By ALEX J. MORRISON
Author of "A New Way to Better Golf," Teacher of Champions

"Always keep in mind the purpose of whatever you are doing," insists my friend Bill Wiley.

This applies to today's effort in the following ways. Your reasons for playing golf must include the need to relax and take it easy. This definitely is your purpose in golf even if you're playing the game just for the fun of it. If you're playing golf to earn an income as a pro it also must be your purpose to take it easy.

By taking it easy I don't mean to loaf on the job. I use the word "easy" to cover the particular kind of mental and physical freedom needed to play good golf or to enjoy whatever scores you do make. As the late Rex Beach said: "While golf is not an easy game it definitely is one of ease."

It is possible that you've already made each and every one of the foregoing observations but what have you done about them?

True you must hold the notion of relaxing and being free in both mind and body before you can show any such freedom in your swing.

THE MAIN point in this lesson is to put your notion into some practical execution. In other words it isn't enough to remind yourself to take it easy. You must actually do something about it.

In a recent tournament Fred Haas, Jr., came to the final round with an excellent chance of winning. Instead of building up tension through feverish practice of discussing his game with other pros or fans he sat down away from the crowd and read the comic section from beginning to end.

The value of remaining at ease is well known to all of the tournament pros and best demonstrated by the most consistent winner, Ben Hogan. On the other hand the weekend golfer assumes that it is enough to make a mental note of taking it easy during his swing no matter how often the results prove otherwise. One sure aid is had in avoiding all haste and effort in all preliminary movements.

It's the new kind of hardtop—
The 4-Door Riviera!

THERE seems to be some confusion about what a hardtop really is, and we'd like to set the matter straight.

A hardtop is a car that looks like a Convertible with the top up—but has a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas.

Up until just recently, it could be built in volume only with two doors—not more—because it would take wholly new structural principles to hinge another set of doors without floor-to-roof center posts.

But Buick came up with those new structural principles and is now building—in volume—hardtops with four doors.

You see one pictured here. It's the 4-Door Riviera. And it's taking the country by storm...

Because here, at long last, is an automobile with the sleek and sporty styling of a true hardtop—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers, plus the added room of a full-size Buick Sedan.

On top of that, this beauty is all Buick—with the buoyant ride of Buick's all-coil springing—the wallowing might of Buick's record-high V8 power—the whip-quick getaway and sizable gas savings of Buick's spectacular Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

And it's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the budget-tagged 188-hp SPECIAL, and the high-performance 236-hp CENTURY, illustrated here.

Come visit us for a first-hand meeting with the 4-Door Riviera—and see how quickly and how easily the last word in automobiles can be yours.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Two Services of Communion at St. Paul's Church

Trinity Sunday, June 5, two celebrations of the Holy Communion will take place, at 8 and 11 a.m. With the close of the Church school this past Sunday, no family service will be held at the 9:30 hour at St. Paul's in the Desert Episcopal church.

The "Builders for Christ" campaign, an effort by the Episcopal church in the nation to raise funds for use in the domestic missionary field, and for the use of the seminaries of the church, is being culminated in southern California this Sunday. Special offerings are being received from all churches in the southern California area on Trinity Sunday this year.

Trinity Sunday also marks the last Sunday of the season in which the 8 and 11 a.m. services will be held. The following Sunday, June 12, and throughout June and July, Holy Communion will be celebrated each Sunday at 9 a.m., the one service of the day. Hymns will be sung at this service, and the Rector, the Rev. William A. Blomdon, Jr., will preach. The full complement of services will begin the first Sunday in September.

The Rector has announced that the refrigeration air-conditioning in the Church has been completed, and will be in operation at each service during the Summer months.

GOD'S CREATION PERFECT AFFIRMS SUNDAY SERMON

The greatness and the glory of God's creation will be expounded in the Lesson-Sermon on "God the Only Cause and Creator" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday.

In a Bible passage the Psalmist sings, "I will praise the Lord with my whole heart." His work is honorable and glorious; and his righteousness endureth for ever. All his commandments are sure." (111:1,3,7).

Mary Baker Eddy declares in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "When we learn the way in Christian Science and recognize man's spiritual being, we shall behold and understand God's creation—all the glories of earth and heaven and man" (p. 264).

The Golden Text from Acts (4:24) reads, "Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, earth, and the sea, and all that in them is."

CONFIDENT LIVING

By Norman Vincent Peale

How to Make Your Life Happier

For a number of years I have been spending a short time at a Florida hotel. It was there, just a few years ago, that I met a pathetic individual who has since become a great friend of mine.

This man was from the West. He looked old and tired and he was rich. But, although he was, as they say, rolling in money, he wasn't well, nor was he happy. He had nurses to take care of him around the clock, three shifts of them. When he went outside, one of them would help him along, ease him into a chair, put a blanket round his legs and fix a pillow under his head. She would sit with him and fan him when the sun got too hot. When meal-time came, she would lead him into the dining room and help him take his place at his table.

After watching this go on day after day, I asked the doctor how sick the man was. "He isn't a bit sick physically," the doctor said. "It's all in his thoughts. That man is so filled with self-pity and concern for himself that it's pathetic."

Then he went on to tell me that he had once become so irritated with this gentleman that he said to him, "Mr. So-and-so, I wish you'd stay out of my office because I do not have time to treat anyone but sick people." That had kept him away for about a week. He had the disease of self-pity and self-centeredness, as later he freely admitted.

The doctor thought I might be of help and I tried to talk to the man, but found it hard to penetrate his mind. So I prayed for guidance in helping him. And I got an answer so simple that I was almost hesitant to use it. But that day I sat with him on the porch after his afternoon nap and asked him, "Have you done anything for anybody today?"

"Why no," he answered. "I'm sick."

"Well," I said, "see that poor old lady over there? Why don't you go over and talk to her? Say something nice, do something nice, even if it is no more than to pull up a chair for someone to sit down on. Do something for somebody and by that method get away from yourself."

I saw him again this year, but I hardly recognized him. He had no nurses and he looked much younger and acted quite energetic and happy. But he stopped me and said, "Do you know what you told me three or four years ago made me well?"

"I'd forgotten exactly what I'd told him, so I asked, 'What was that?'"

"You asked me this question: 'Have you done anything for

Baptism Service at Cathedral City Church Sunday

A program, July 10, will close the school.

mence at 9:30 a.m. with Rev. Yaylian conducting the adult class in the main Sanctuary.

Carnation Corner

BY June Goodie
CARNATION HOME SERVICE DIRECTOR

You know how I am—never at a loss for words. But today I feel positively tongue-tied! The reason is Carnation's new dream of an Ice Cream, Strawberry Whirl. How can I possibly describe those luscious, flavored, fresh-frozen strawberries Carnation uses?...and the absolute quantities of strawberries Carnation puts in Strawberry Whirl? (I've never seen so many strawberries go into Strawberry Ice Cream in my life!)

You'll understand my predicament with your very first taste of Carnation Strawberry Whirl Ice Cream. It's just too delicious for words!

Strawberry Shortcake is ALL-AMERICAN!

East, west, north, south—hot, cold, dry, damp—hardly little strawberry plants don't care. They grow in all 48 states!

Most of our favorite dishes come to us from somewhere else, but we're not indebted to any foreign country for shortcake. It's the dessert that's 100% American!

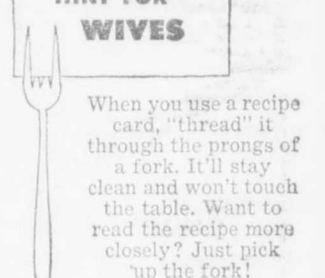

Speaking of shortcake, do try your family's favorite berry shortcake topped with Carnation Strawberry Whirl Ice Cream. Delicious! Or fill meringue shells with Strawberry Whirl Ice Cream and top with fresh whole strawberries. Out of this world!

HINT FOR HUSBANDS

1-2-3, and you can make your wife's dented pots and pans like new again! 1—fill a small sack with sand. 2—slip a rubber eraser tip over the hammer head. 3—hold the pan firmly against the sand, and hammer out the dents from the inside.

HINT FOR WIVES

When you use a recipe card, "thread" it through the prongs of a fork. It'll stay clean and won't touch the table. Want to read the recipe more closely? Just pick up the fork!

HINT FOR CHILDREN

Be sure to tell Mom and Dad the good news about Carnation Popsicles and Carnation Creamy Crunch Ice Cream Bars. These two favorites are now available in handy, take-home packs of twelve. So ask Mom to buy some today, this convenient, money-saving way. Then, when you want the best Popsicle or Ice Cream Bar in town—just go to your freezer and get one!

Dill-Strause

Wedding Told

Miss Marilyn Barbara Strause, daughter of Mrs. Violet Norgren Strause of Palm Springs and Monroe B. Strause of San Diego, became the bride of David McKinley Dill on May 22. The ceremony was performed in Yuma, Arizona, with Reverend Charles S. Mundell officiating.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Parrish Dill of Sheffield, Alabama, is employed as a flight test electronics technician by the Douglas Aircraft Corporation at Edwards, California. The couple will make their home in Lancaster, California.

Miss Catherine Khury, former district nurse here, has been given tenure in the Redlands school system according to word received by friends. She went to Redlands about two years ago.

Picturesque Setting, Music and Dancing Make Luau Like a Night at Waikiki

A warm tropical night, with a half moon glittering over the palm trees, added to the illusion that Waikiki had come to the desert Saturday night when Shadow Mountain club staged the granddaddy of all luaus, with an estimated 1250 in attendance.

The beauty of the setting, with strings of Japanese lanterns overhead, and the stage bridging the famed figure-eight pool, the lighted palm trees against the night sky and the mountains looming in the background added to the night's magic. Tables were set up in the extensive area around the pool and on the terraces and it was a colorful scene with most of the guests in costume. There were grass skirts and mumuus, Chinese costumes and brilliant Hawaiian shirts and gowns, so that it was like a big movie set.

The luau tables were set up on the top terrace and were laden with a bountiful array of curry and rice, spareribs and fried chicken, salads and fruit bowls, and yams stuffed with pineapple and coconut. Suckling pigs hung on spits over glowing braziers and "shrimp boats" were laden with shrimp, lobster and crab. Tropical rum drinks were served beside the pool.

Fireworks exploded colored stars overhead to open the star-studded show which headlined the beloved Hilo Hattie, who is just back from Honolulu. After some of her own inimitable numbers, she persuaded Hank Gogerty to do his "Cock-Eyed Mayor" routine.

Spectacular was the fire and drum dance of Chief Satani, who danced with flames leaping from bracelet cups on his wrists, and the thrilling knife dance of Freddie Latouli.

Lei Aloha, dancing star of the Harry Owens show, and a bevy of beautiful girls did the graceful Island dances. Reflections of the dancers were like modernistic paintings in the pool.

Concluding the show was the Shadow Mountain ballet with young girls carrying lighted torches as they swam in the pool. Simulating the plunge of the lovelorn maiden into the volcano, a flaming figure was tossed into the pool from the high diving platform.

The liquid notes of the music and the voices of the singers as they sang the songs of the Islands are among the memories that linger on of this luau, which was definitely one of the greatest ever staged on the mainland.

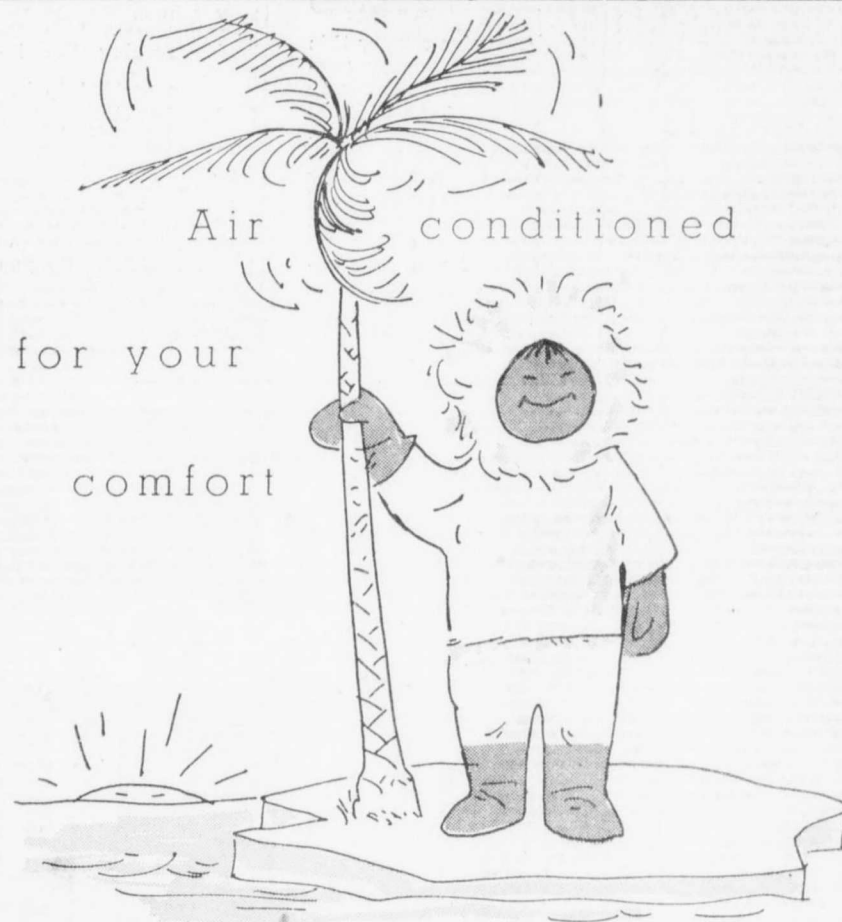

Play School Ends with Gala Party

Closing day of the Desert Inn Play School on Friday was a gala affair as Mrs. Claude Valeur arranged a farewell party that also celebrated the birthdays of her two small daughters Louise and Mandy. Assisted by Verna Clarke, who has been in charge of the Play School this year, Mrs. Valeur arranged a luncheon which was highlighted by two birthday cakes. Louise's cake had five candles and Mandy's had three, celebrating their birthdays which are a week apart in June. Adding to the fun and excitement was a "grab basket" of surprises.

Youngsters enjoying the party on the lawn of the Valeur home at 323 West Tahquitz, were Chris Foster, Carol Poliak, Carol Oliver, Nan Elliott, Susie McCoy, Jodie Dunlevie, Blair Sanchez, Nancy Hancock, Tommy Kieley Jr., Sarah Radcliffe and Terry Bannerman.

Miracle Mile Association Pushes Improvement Plans

Members of Palm Springs Miracle Mile association, covering the northern end of Palm Canyon drive, meeting last week at Harris Manor, heard reports on the transportation situation from D. B. Carlin, head of the Bus committee. Carlin reported that proprietors of the Citizens Bus line do not have a franchise but operate on a permit from city council. He said that he was informed that the venture was an unprofitable one but maintained as a public service.

FOLLOWING his report, the association members discussed possibility of other means of public transportation to serve their area.

S. C. Doyle of the Sign committee exhibited pictures of existing signs at the north end and southeast entrance to the city. These pictures will be shown to city council at its next meeting to emphasize the need for improvement. Doyle said that council has agreed to place the matter on its next agenda.

MEMBERS VOTED unanimously to petition city council and the state highway commission for widening of Palm Canyon drive between Vista Chino and Stevens road. They also voted to ask city council to place palm trees on the drive between the stone gates, the former city limits, and El Mirador hotel.

President I. H. Harris said that as 90 per cent of traffic entering the city from the north traverses this stretch it was important that palm trees be planted and the area landscaped before Fall.

AS A SAFETY MEASURE city council and the highway commission were urged to extend the 35 mile an hour speed limit to Racquet Club road and to establish a school zone at the play school. President Harris was instructed to write both bodies seeking the improvement.

It was decided to hold regular meetings each month during the summer to continue to press for these and other needed improvements.

The associations' membership drive will be continued and A. T. Kelh, treasurer, said that dues could be mailed to him at 1550 North Palm Canyon drive.

Sisters Have Their Birthday Party Together

A luncheon and a matinee party celebrated the birthdays of Leslie and Daphne Thrasher, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thrasher on Saturday. Leslie was eight that day. It wasn't really Daphne's birthday, because she was six on December 23, just two days before Christmas but the sisters always celebrate their birthdays together for an obvious reason.

The luncheon table, decorated with Japanese parasols and balls, was set up in the patio of the Thrasher home at 1177 South Riverside drive. There were two yellow-and-white birthday cakes adorned with tiny dancing girls.

Some of the second graders from Cahulla school staged a play "The Princess."

Afterwards the merry group attended a matinee downtown.

A cousin of Leslie's and Daphne's, Georgia Ann Jewell, was here from Phoenix for the party. Other guests were: Linda Hand, Hattie Henderson, Deborah Hollstrand, Melinda McKinney, Julie Sarup, Janey and Joanie Warmley, Paula Sturgeon, Penney School, Vickie Smith, Barbara Olivastro, Susie Forman and Patty Darwin.

Just Call Him "Grandpa Boyd"

Mayor Florian Boyd is just as happy this week as if he had a new city hall and the problems of a municipal golf course and off-street parking settled. He is now a grandfather.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd received word Tuesday morning of the birth of a boy, weighing seven pounds, to their son Corporal Florian Gillar Boyd II and his wife at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. The new mother is the former Shirley Renville, daughter of the Ray Renvilles of 625 South Camino Real. The little boy has been named Florian Gillar Boyd III.

His father, who is in the personnel office at Ft. Sill, completes his service with the United States Army next November when the family will return to Palm Springs. The grandparents think that November is a long way off.

Summer Club Organized at La Paz Guest Ranch

Summer fun for the entire family as members of The Summer club at the La Paz hotel and guest ranch is on tap for those who wish to take advantage of the recreational facilities that are being offered.

Jack Linthicum, managing director of the hotel who made the announcement, said that applications from individuals or whole families as a unit may be sent to The Summer club or persons interested may call in person at the hostelry.

AMONG THE RECREATION facilities there will be available, in addition to the use of the swimming pool, a playground for children under supervision of an adult; an air refrigerated card room, dining room and ping pong tables. There will also be a poolside snack bar. The tennis courts will be open to members of The Summer Club.

Towels and a place to change for those who desire to swim, will also be furnished.

"THE SUMMER CLUB" which started June 1 and will continue until October 1, is separate and apart from the operation of The La Paz hotel," Linthicum said. "However, all of the facilities of the inner patio dining room has been converted into a combination card room, dining place and one of the ping-pong tables will be placed there. Daily menus, pre-determined in advance will be one of the features."
